1—Allan ROSS. Signed from Luton Town in June, 1963, is enjoying his eleventh season at Brunton Park. On his way to 350 appearances. Glasgow-born, has been close to being capped.

2—Graham WINSTANLEY. First professional club, Newcastle. Left there for Carlisle in August, 1969. Soon will complete 200 appearances.

3—John GORMAN. United's Player of the Year for last two seasons. Recruited from Celtic, September 1970. Soon establishing himself, has exceeded century of League games.

4—Les O'NEILL. Had gained useful experience with Newcastle and Darlington when signed from Bradford City, May, 1972. Born Hartford.

5—Bill GREEN. Newcastle-born newcomer with the physical attributes for his job. Proving himself a good recent recruit from Hartlepool.

6—Brian TILER. Earning a good reputation with his native Rotherham, caught Aston Villa's fancy. They transferred him to Carlisle two years ago and he has been an acquisition.

7—Dennis MARTIN. Signed from West Bromwich, June, 1970, has settled in well as a midfield player or attacker. When last season ended had scored 33 goals in 132 games.

8—Chris BALDERSTONE. Joined United in June, 1965, from his native Huddersfield, and developed into one of their shrewdest players. Heading for 400 League and Cup appearances. Goals total over 70 but has engineered many more. Leicestershire cricket star.

10—Ray TRAIN. Born Nuneaton. Good midfield builder who signed for United from Walsall in December, 1971. Regularly in first team.

FOCUS (See Front Cover)

LONG a dependable, determined "regular" in North End's defence, centre half Graham Hawkins has usually been missed on the few occasions when his consistent sequences of first team appearances have been interrupted. He is a strong, untiring player whose aim to play a commanding role reflects the essence of generalship. Signed from Wolves in January, 1968, he has well repaid a substantial fee in more than 250 League appearances. Born Darlaston.

CARLISLE UNITED

POPULAR Carlisle United's approach to their second Boxing Day match with North End should be high spirited through having won the first by 6-1 at home just a year ago and, in their last away game, curbing ambitious Orient by scoring the only goal.

This shock for a team aspiring to follow Queen's Park Rangers into Division One was Carlisle's third away win. It reduced the points gap between the clubs to four, despite their being separated by six others in the promotion hunt. Carlisle, with nine goals scored but 16 conceded in 10 away matches, have gained eight points.

They are among the clubs we are especially glad to be meeting again because we are old friends and on previous visits they could be relied upon to give an attractive and lively display. For many years there was an affinity between us. Carlisle before the war was a jumping-off spot for North End's rewarding expeditions to Scotland, occasionally with business done at the half-way stage.

Willie Shankly's rail ticket to Preston in July, 1933, when he was a tough callow youth of 19 about to storm his way with the team into the First Division, was a deception! In March, 1949, after a glorious career in North End and Scotland colours, he used the return half to get back to Brunton and become Carlisle's manager.

That accomplished half back Bob Batey, an effective stylist who would be a jewel to-day, also came to Deepdale from Carlisle. Jimmy Dougal and evergreen Bob Kelly took the same route in reverse. Indomitable Shankly, living football then as he does now, went there to learn the trade at which he has become a master.

In those days Carlisle were unsung, hard-working, hard-up, hopeful plodders thankful for the inspiration to persevere and fight put into them by lifelong enthusiastic pioneers of the calibre of long-serving director George Reed.

To their credit they emerged from obscurity by their own shrewd, unspared effort. Look at the past decade which spans the most exciting period in Carlisle's 70 seasons' history.

A Fourth Division club in 1960, Carlisle went up two years later fourth from the top, only to get the chopper 12 months later. Undismayed but wiser they earned promotion again the following season with 60 points and 113 goals. Hugh McIlmoyle, a favourite at Deepdale and still an artist when his glory had faded, scored 44.

After one more year Carlisle were in Division Two as Third Division Champions. In their second season they kept their supporters on the knife-edge of suspense with a bid for the First Division. It failed, but they finished an honourable third.

In 1969-70 Carlisle again soared to prominence, achieving their highest total of Second Division points and fourth position, Cardiff having a slightly better goal average. Both were only three points behind promoted Sheffield United. Salute a club worthy of esteem.

MANAGER

CARLISLE fans happily remembering Alan Ashman's earlier success at Brunton Park, were pleased when he took charge of the team again in 1972.

He had left Carlisle for West Bromwich, but his step into the First Division brought the mixed fortune of an F.A. Cup Final win for the "Throstles", and having his services dispensed with four seasons later.

Now his aim is to disprove the saying that things are not as good at the second time of trying. He first signed for Carlisle as a player 17 years ago from Nottingham Forest for £5,000.

Selling his poultry farm and quitting part-time managership of Penrith in 1963, he guided Carlisle from the Fourth to the Second Division in four years.

CHARLT

OWING TO the Christmas holiday I am unable to go into the customary detail in the "Chat" spot. It is, however, appropriate to use it to wish all the Preston North End supporters, on behalf of the directors, players, management and staff, the very best at Christmas and hope that you all get everything that you wish yourself.

Over the Christmas period in recent years we have played football only on Boxing Day. I well remember that not so very long ago we had to play on both Christmas Day and Boxing Day. Including the usual Saturday matches it was as heavy a fixture congestion as we have always had at Easter.

I used to consider this the best time of the winter to watch football as most people were off work or off school and people not participating had the time and opportunity to see three or four matches over the Christmas and New Year period in the happy atmosphere of not having to go to work or attend school. I always enjoyed the games then for the uncertainty of the outcome, since they were often played in rather trying conditions for the players, that is snow and ice, frost or particularly on heavy pitches.

I think that possibly some of the conditions that used to be taken for granted would not be acceptable to a lot of clubs or referees to-day, as entertaining the crowd seems to be the ultimate consideration. This is possibly right, as everyone wants to see entertaining football and hope that the best team will win. Whatever happens over the Christmas period I am sure that it will be very interesting on the soccer scene.

A Very Merry Christmas to All of You and many thanks to the fans who have supported North End so well this season.

North Ends new signing Ray Treacy in action

Ron Healey, North Ends goalkeeper on loan from Manchester City, punches clear

25 YEARS AGO

by WALTER PILKINGTON

1948-49 PORTSMOUTH, First Division Champions for two seasons together, were expected to gobble up bottom-of-the-table and eventually relegated North End, and so they did, but after their spirited victory against Liverpool from being two goals down the Deepdale side's mood, on the long journey south was not that of lambs being taken to the slaughter.

On the contrary they were chirpy in their confidence that a revival had begun, and that they had the spirit and skill to upset predictions. I would not say they were optimistic enough to expect to end "Pompey's" long run without a home defeat, but Joe Walton, their captain, kept on telling his mates that an extra effort, like that shown in the rally which shattered Liverpool, could earn North End a point.

It was wishful thinking falsified by events, for the outcome was a pathetic display by the would-be giant-killers who were crushed into submission by Portsmouth's strength, skill and awe-inspiring physique and lucky not to suffer a heavier defeat than 3-1 : the consolation goal, incidentally, was not scored until time had almost gone.

Harry Jackson

North End, who had not had a settled team for weeks, which was as much their undoing as Tom Finney's continued absence through injury, had made four changes in the side which had humbled Liverpool a week earlier (December 11th). The one least wanted was a replacement for Angus Morrison, who took time off to get married after scoring four goals in his first three appearanaces.

Willie McIntosh, who deputised, was a flop in what was his last game for North End. He was transferred to Blackpool three weeks later. Alongside him in the strange position for him of inside left was Harry Jackson. He, too, was promptly dropped and did not play again for Preston. He was transferred to Blackburn Rovers within a week.

To make things worse right winger Tommy Bogan had flu and his inexperienced stand-in, inside forward Eddie Brown, showed little idea of what he was expected to do.

Flashback

NORTH END supporters neither want nor expect a repetition of what happened on Boxing Day last year when Carlisle, as now, provided the opposition (with hardly any forthcoming), the only difference being that Brunton Park not Deepdale was the venue.

To say the least the blitz that hit P.N.E. was a shock, as only three days earlier, finding the scoring touch again after three blanks, the home team shook off depression with a 3-3 draw against Bristol City.

A festive day jolt for Prestonians hoping for a point at Carlisle was news of North End's heaviest defeat since 1-7 at Plymouth in August, 1962.

In hitting us for six Carlisle excelled, granted that two goals were lucky and three came near the end.

TEAMS in the lower half of the table put themselves in a brighter mood for the festive period with a timely collection of points needed in the fight facing them to avoid the dreaded twentieth position. The bottom nine gained 10 between them, which was good going considering that there were clashes of strugglers at Bolton, where Swindon suffered their twelfth defeat, and at Sheffield, where Fulham beat worried Wednesday 3-0.

This result was the more surprising because Fulham's goals total for the previous 20 games was only 13. Two of these, at Middlesbrough on September 1st, inflicted the leaders' only defeat. North End, who visit Fulham in the Cup, no doubt will heed the obvious warning.

THE REVIE robots, back to essentials after the defeat of a much weakened team in Portugal, duly put on record the best start ever made in a First Division season of 42 matches — P20, W14, D6, L0, Goals 39-11, Pts. 34 — and rounded off this unique feat in style by laying their Stamford Bridge hoodoo with a 2-1 win.

Leeds had then played all the other teams except Newcastle and Sheffield United. In making history out of Liverpool's 1949-50 record of P19, W10, D9, L0, Goals 33-16, Pts.29, they could claim to have fared better than the Anfielders against the eventual leading teams.

The best of Liverpool's 10 wins were 2-1 Arsenal (sixth) away, and 4-2 Sunderland (third) in starting the season with a home match.

Leeds have defeated Everton (3-1), Wolves (4-1), Liverpool (1-0), West Ham (4-1) and Coventry (3-0) at home, and Arsenal (2-1), Tottenham (3-0), Wolves (2-0), Southampton (2-1), Norwich City (1-0), Manchester City (1-0), Ipswich (3-0) and Chelsea (2-1) away.

Their six draws were 0-0 (h) Manchester United; 1-1 (h) Stoke; 2-2 (h) Queen's Park Rangers; 2-2 (a) Leicester; 0-0 (a) Burnley; and 0-0 (a) Derby County.

Giant-killing feats by non-League clubs seeking a passport into round three of the F.A. Cup are gradually becoming a feature of the past. Three got through in pairings with kindred spirits. Most of the rest bit the dust, including Hereford's opponents: this time the boot was on the other foot! But one feat to be remembered was unabashed Altrincham's draw at Blackburn.
